

Fred's Footsteps – Statement on COVID-19 Crisis

Our thoughts are with all those affected by the COVID-19 crisis. Fred's Footsteps is fully operational with our employees working remotely and taking necessary precautions to assist with flattening the curve.

The fear and uncertainty that the world is currently experiencing is unfortunately a daily reality for families supported by Fred's Footsteps. Their safety today presents an entirely new obstacle. In the face of this new challenge, Fred's Footsteps will continue to be there for families in the region.

We are committed to being creative with how we serve our families, engage our community and respond to the inevitable growing demands. We will be faced with challenges shared by nonprofits and businesses the world over; but, our commitment to serve families in our region as they care for their sick or disabled child will remain. We will stay in close contact with our families and hospital social worker partners to understand the impact that this crisis is taking on the financial stability and ability to safely access care for the families we serve.

Lastly, I would like to thank our donors and partners. Your generosity over the past 15 years has allowed Fred's Footsteps to grow substantially. It is your support that will allow us to continue to provide comfort, relief and hope to families in our region during this unprecedented time.
